INTRODUCTION

Eltees Farms is one of the top tier farms in the nation. Established in the early 1990s, rebranded and upgraded in 2014, the business has grown to be producer of agricultural products of international standard, using state of the art technology as well as expertise from its experienced and agile workforce.

Our egg brand "eggcellent", is unique due to our attention to detail in producing each egg. Every process is controlled: from our rearing farms, which receive the birds as day old chicks, to our Layer Farm which keeps the birds throughout their laying cycle, and lastly our automated egg collection and grading system that ensures that we have the best eggs whilst limiting human interference.

By growing our own layers from 'day old', we can ensure that our flocks receive essential nutrients and treatments throughout their lifecycle, which results in healthy, productive birds, thus producing healthy and nutritious eggs.

Automating the collection and grading of our eggs allows us size our eggs objectively and to significantly reduce human contact. This improves the hygiene of our eggs whilst reducing human error and damaged eggs.

Feed for our farms are also produced in our feed mill, allowing us to provide our flocks with the best nutrition, a key component in the production of healthy, nutritious eggs. More importantly, it allows us to control our feed composition, giving us the flexibility to respond to complaints from our customers faster and better.

Beyond our infrastructure, technical know-how and innovation, is our passion for agriculture and for Nigeria. As product marketing channels in the country continue to advance, and greater emphasis is placed on hygiene, taste and convenience (in line with other developed countries), we aim to play a big role in Nigeria's story by delivering products and services that are of global standard.

It is this level of service that we aim to bring to Shoprite Supermarkets.
